

SOLUTION to SUMMER WONDER
GINGKO GOLDEN LEAF MYSTERY

Original Plan: Hide the GOLDEN GINGKO LEAF

- CLUES
 - Central Prison
 - Blind/Poor Eyesight
 - Heart shape (all a Red Herring)
 - Carousel
 - Ballfields
 - Tunnel
 - Famous NCSU Tree
- NOTE: take treasure hunters on a tour of what they would pass if coming from Vault Craft Beer
- Do a surrounding building 'shadow' to narrow the search
- Use an article published about the NCSU tree with letters italicized to spell out the exact location
- Later hints to include GPS coordinates and vantage points from parking garages and buildings

DOCTOR LETTER RECEIVED IN VAULT MAILBOX THIS PAST APRIL (Hand delivered? Was there any video footage? What hospital?)

To Whom This May Concern,

I am reaching out to you because your information was the only possible contact information we could find on a patient recently brought into a local ER. The patient has a head trauma and a serious bout of amnesia. I assess that he may even be delusional. If you are not family or friend then it appears you may be connected to whatever happen to this patient.

While trying to get information from him such as his identification, what has happened to him, mobility, pains, etc., one of my nurses discovered a note on the ER floor that must have come out of his pocket while he was transferred between beds. I have included a copy of this note with a few things redacted that I may want to only reveal if you are family or a friend. Others may be involved. I sure hope you are not an accomplice to whatever has happened.

The police have already investigated, listing him as a John Doe.

Being a bit of an amateur sleuth (and since the police seem to have put this on a low priority hold until he can be identified), I have some thoughts. Here are some things I have noted. In times of consciousness the patient rambles about things. He mostly says, "I was followed" and "lost it, karma caught me." I think he may have even said something like kingold? "Must get back kingold" he said many times. Other things said of note: "it could still be out there," "someone's following me," and "not the drop." Of course, I have no idea what any of this could reference. Maybe this makes some sense to you? If he is what I have assumed from all this, then he is a thief or an accomplice to a theft, and something has gone wrong. Maybe that accounts for his head injury and condition? For the integrity of HIPPA laws, this is about all I can communicate at this time.

Another police investigator has come by recently to see if there is anything else they can do. Since no other crime besides the alleged assault has been committed - that anyone is aware of - the patient remains in our care as a John Doe. Strange how no family or friends have contacted the hospital looking for him or that there has been no missing persons reported that fits his description. I did not show the authorities the note we found. It may not even belong to this patient.

Forgive me, I'd like to stay anonymous for now. I surely do not want to get caught up in anything that may be nefarious. And withholding this note from the investigator could have been a mistake.

I can be contacted at this email address: rollgreathits(theroastgrill)@feverfewdillonnope(findflowerenvelope).com

Confidentially,
Dr. Sleuth

NOTE FROM UNKNOWN DOCTOR FOUND ON THE ER FLOOR BY A NURSE (allegedly not reported to the police)

- ✓ THE MARK: Domino I. @dominoadventure NOTES: he is connected to Dr. Tate I'vee | he is a treasure hunter himself
- ✓ Register for the April treasure hunt happening at Vault Beer place in downtown Raleigh (use my alias/fake info)
- ✓ Wear my COVID Mask throughout/ make sure to have on unassuming/throw away clothes
- ✓ Look for possible other treasures. Treasure hunters often bring past accomplishments/hordes to show off at these events. This will be The Target. If nothing, just go through w/ the event/wait for another opportunity/take notes
- ✓ If something is there, make a quick plan while pretending to be there to solve the current treasure hunt
- ✓ Grab and get away!!
- ✓ NOTES: people will most likely be distracted at some point while focusing on the treasure hunt
- ✓ Stash anything I can get my hands on at UBELOPTUARHM MAKE SURE no one sees me! Let Picker know location via BBSIGN email
- Do I let G.E. know of this plan in case something happens to me? OR Let G know the location just in case? Whatever G wants, G gets.
- Destroy this checklist. It is the one thing that I always say puts people away. Haha!

(BLUE POT RUMAH-blue pot is at the park at this business adjacent to RSP and this is where the thief left the leaf)

(Gabriel Eng | look him up and see his Instagram handle)

(BIKE 8 sign next to the spot)

(Begg the questions: Was Gabriel the thief? The Picker? An Accomplice? Just an Innocent Artist? I think the real thief is still out there and may strike again)
